What's In a Name... Everything

In the Jewish texts of occult practices of the Merkava school they teach that a Rabbi may get into connect with their angels [enemy Extra terrestrials] by chanting their Hebrew names with focus on them their sigils and such and they can even get into contact with highly advanced Rabbinical sages who have passed out of their bodies but their souls are strong enough to exist on the astral and cross the barrier into the material world to some degree. To get into contact with such they are told to chant their name or passages of their writings with intense focus on them. This creates a mental connection on the astral. Its making a phone call psychically. This is why someone will be thinking of a personal all of a sudden and they get a phone call by that person right around that time. Because the individual was thinking hard about getting into contact with them and they picked up on this telepathically.

The reason the Jews fear the name Satan and Jews are forbidden to speak it. Is because they know there is real being connected to that name who they don't want to connect to. This is also why they make up substitute names like "Samal" and such to avoid the name Satan.

The reason for this is simple and its Satan is the actual name of this being. Satan is Sanskrit for the name of the highest God and in full the mantra name is Satanama which pays homage to the Name, Nama of Satan which is the energy of Satan and awakens the serpent of Satan which is His spirit within us. In Sanskrit the word Satanama embodies the vibrational reality of the Gentile soul and the elements of the Gentiles soul the five elements, which form the five bodies the chakra's, nadis which form the entire plane of consciousness and being. The Namasta of Hinduism which means "I greet the name of God within you" is actually Nama Sata which is also Nama Satan if the anusvara is added on the end. Meaning the name of the inner God within the Gentile which is the divine presence of which Satanama is the vibrational expression of. This is why the Jews state Gentiles are all "Ha Satan" in their writings The Satan's. This is confirmed in Sanskrit.

Chanting the name Satanama with focus will help one open their mind to Satan and the Gods and get into contact with them. I have witnessed obvious Jews go into the Yogi Bhajan Sikh group which use this mantra Satanama as their main one and ancient kundalini teachings from Hinduism. And do everything possible to attack Bhajan and push the teachings including the mantra Satanama out of this group and try and to do everything to ruin this sect in general. In the name of its not Sikhism and try and turn the Sikhism sect of Bhajan into a Noadhide movement. They want this gone. This is what the Jews have been doing everywhere for thousands of years infiltrating and destroying all Gentile cultures and removing all the spiritual teachings of the Gods to bring Gentiles under the control of the enemy. Sikhism was created by a Hindu Guru hundreds of years ago before so much knowledge from the east was removed that is why Satnam which is shortened form of Satanama remains the highest name of God within this religion because this was not removed then. The Sikh texts also mentioned honoring Brahma, Lakshmi, and other Hindu deities.

A lot of people support Xianity because they don't have anything better and they where raised in it its a cultural thing for them. They don't actually believe in it. Most will just take something they like their pastor told them about love and being nice to people and leave it at that and that is because they are naturally just nice and caring people anyway so it already suits them. If something better came along they would go with that.

However the ones who get sucked in deep just become obsessive weirdo's who end up on utube with pit stains sperging out about how jebooz lives in their lampshade and they spend two hours every morning talking to him while they twitch out. Leaving people to wonder..... Is dis bitch on coke? Nope just high on Hebrew mind control.
